

Hello Modaxo team,

My experience combines practical AI adoption, capability building, project governance, and translating commercial needs into executable initiatives. At Wipro on the Meta Project, I drove native CRM AI activation through onboarding, playbooks, and three weeks of side-by-side support. Usage increased by 150%, and the operation became #1 globally for adoption growth.

I also designed and governed a bootcamp that reduced ramp-up from 6 to 3 months, worked across global product lines, quality, and outsourced teams, and organized priorities through OKRs, roadmaps, and backlogs. At Meu Barzin, I moved a conversational product using RAG, n8n, and Supabase from hypothesis to MVP, using metrics to identify the real blockers to scale.

I can support Modaxo in identifying use cases, running pilots, removing friction, building champion capability, and encouraging responsible adoption. I do not claim ADKAR or Kotter experience or a formal multi-BU transformation title; my evidence is change implemented, measured, and sustained in real operations.
