

Hi RevBlack team,

The mission of turning CRM into growth and efficiency is a natural next step from my experience in Marketing Ops, Sales Enablement, data, and process improvement. At Wipro on the Meta Project, I led AI activation in a proprietary CRM, increasing usage by 150%, and used root cause analysis, call listening, playbooks, and dashboards to improve productivity and quality.

In consulting, I delivered 40+ projects, translating client objectives into scopes, workflows, timelines, and outcomes. At Munzner, I built an automated Bitrix24 and Sendpulse funnel that generated approximately R$50,000 while tracking acquisition, conversion, revenue, and ROI. I also built CRM prototypes and databases in Supabase/PostgreSQL and NocoDB.

HubSpot and Salesforce are part of my toolset, but I do not claim advanced administration, certifications, or end-to-end implementations on either platform. I want to deepen that capability at RevBlack while contributing immediately through discovery, processes, analytics, documentation, and consultative stakeholder management.
